

REBELS PROTEST U. S. HELP GIVEN TO FEDERAL FOE

Communication from Huerta Faction is Received

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 31. (AP)—A formal protest against the plan of the United States to sell war materials to the government of General Obregon in Mexico was transmitted to the state department today by representatives here of the Huerta revolutionary faction. Apparently the communication was deemed to be lost in departmental files, as there was no indication that its receipt would even be acknowledged.

The Washington government in the past has scrupulously avoided any dealings with agents in this country of revolutionists against a friendly power. They have been recognized in no official way.

There were signs of congressional objections however to the sale that might prove more effective. The action of the administration in deciding to grant the request of the Obregon government was under discussion among members of both houses who are here during the holiday recess and some opposition was voiced.

Representative Fairchild, Republican, New York, announced his intention of introducing a resolution upon the reconviction of the house this week, proposing to forbid the sale by the government of war equipment to any foreign power. Even if such a resolution should be adopted however, it seems doubtful that it could be put thru in time to prevent the completion of the sale to the Mexican government.

No one denies that the president now has full legal powers to make such a sale.

The protest of the de la Huerta faction was addressed to Secretary Hughes and signed by Enrique Seldner, the stationery used being headed, "Confidential Agency of the Provisional Government of Mexico."

Claims made by Seldner in this communication as to the scope of the revolutionary movement do not appear to be borne out by the official advice received by the Washington government from its own agents in Mexico. So far as these official advice show, the movement has not as yet passed beyond the stage where a comparatively small portion of the Mexican army has revolted and is supporting the de la Huerta.

Military observers here who have studied the reports estimate that seventy percent of the Mexican army remains loyal to the Mexican government and consular advice have repeatedly indicated that there was no movement among Mexican civilians to join the revolution forces.

What was described as "an outline" of the Washington government's attitude with reference to its decision to sell munitions to the Obregon government was made available tonight by an official spokesman for the Washington administration. According to this spokesman the position of the government may be summarized as follows:

This government is furnishing a limited quantity of war material to the Mexican government because such action is in the interest of stability and order and is necessary to prevent the establishment of a government in Mexico which would result in the animosities and bitterness growing out of the presidential campaign to select a successor to President Obregon. It is highly important that Mexico should break away from a long series of unfortunate precedents and determine the succession to the presidency of that country peacefully and constitutionally.

Completion of the arrangement by which the munitions are to be delivered to Obregon officials proceeded under the ruling of Secretary Hughes that he would not discuss the matter in any way.

Reiterating today that compliance with the Mexican request for sale of war materials should not constitute a departure from the policy of the Harding administration state department officials emphasized that the arms were not to be used for making war against another state but for the preservation of order within the territory of the friendly power making the request.

CHICAGO REVELERS GREATER IN NUMBERS THAN EVER BEFORE

Only Uniformed Police Used
—New York Report—ed Quiet

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—A baby year was born in Chicago tonight amid the wildest acclaim ever accorded such a youngster.

Earlier in the evening hotel and restaurant men declared that the crowds of revelers exceeded by thousands the number of New Year's celebrants of any previous year.

Pocket flasks and other containers made their appearance early among the hotel and restaurant crowds. Dealers were elevated to positions of honor in the center of the table. Early in the evening Chief of Police Collins issued an order to all police captains to use only uniformed policemen to watch saloons and cabarets. This apparently simplified matters for the wary innkeeper as he kept a weather eye out for a uniform and was less suspicious of the stranger in civilian attire who wandered by casually.

At prohibition headquarters from which a squad of law enforcement officials had been expected to rally forth in a "mop up" campaign as the old year died, newspaper reporters spent a listless New Year's Eve waiting for something to happen. At midnight no one had heard from the prohibition agents.

New York, Dec. 31.—A misty drizzle descending on New York tonight failed to stop the holiday revelers who flocked to Broadway, Greenwich Village and lesser known centers of amusement to welcome the first day of 1924.

Liquor? There were a few persons who showed indication that they had imbibed of liquor containing more alcohol than is allowed by law but patrolmen, who were plentiful, said they had seen fewer of these living evidences than on any New Year's Eve in their memories.

PLEA IS MADE FOR EUROPEAN STUDENTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 31.—A plea for assistance for students of Central Europe many of whom are undernourished and clothed in rags, was voiced tonight before the international convention of the student volunteer movement by Dr. Adolf Keller, of Zurich, Switzerland, secretary of the Central bureau for relief of the evangelical churches of Europe. Everywhere on the continent, Dr. Keller declared thousands of students are compelled to work from six to eight hours daily outside of classes to maintain themselves.

In wooden barracks, in small miserable rooms, many of them without coal, many students in Germany are being forced out of school because they no longer can buy books," he said.

International co-operation through such instrumentalities as the league of nations or world court, was advocated by the majority of the gathering as the most effective step toward world peace.

FOUR CONVICTS TUNNEL OUT OF FEDERAL PRISON

George Anderson, the "Million Dollar Mail Bandit," Missing

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 31.—Federal officials working in the wake of four convicts, including George Anderson, "million dollar mail bandit," who ingeniously tunneled their way to freedom from the federal penitentiary here Sunday, reported tonight that they had some news nothing in the way of a definite.

The descriptions of Anderson and the others, Hiram Lepore, serving 15 years for altering treasury obligations; Frank Haynes, nearing the end of an 18 months term for counterfeiting and Ludwig Smith, doing 10 years for robbing the mails, had been broadcast through the country of officials said but altering reports that came from Macon, Ga., no response had been received.

Advices from Macon said that officials there had been unable to find any trace of three men seen to alight from a train as it entered the city last night. They gave chase to the men, but lost them and were not able to pick up their trail today.

Investigation at the prison from which the men escaped by digging a tunnel some fifty feet long and reaching a depth of eight feet to pass under the high stone wall disclosed that tools probably had been acquired by one of the quartet who worked in the tool shop.

CONTROVERSY STARTED TWO YEARS AGO OVER WILMETH SOON TO END

Louis A. Hill, Harding Appointee, to Resign
Position

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—An end to the two year old controversy originating in the discharge by President Harding of James L. Wilmeth, director, and 25 subordinate officials of the bureau of engraving, appeared in sight tonight.

Louis A. Hill, the director named to succeed Mr. Wilmeth, and about whom the storm has more or less centered, has tendered his resignation to Secretary Mellon. It has not been accepted but officials close to the treasury secretary said it would be accepted as soon as a suitable man could be selected for the place.

It was assumed also that several subordinate officials would retire when Mr. Hill leaves the post of director inasmuch as treasury officials have indicated they would give a number of the men discharged with Mr. Wilmeth the opportunity of reappointment as was done with the former director.

Mr. Wilmeth refused the reappointment, but said he would make every effort to have those ousted with him vindicated of any irregularity and suggested this could best be accomplished thru a tender of reappointment.

Prospects Bright For Business Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Considering all factors which make for business prosperity in the United States, "the odds are favorable to 1924," Secretary Hoover declared today. The conclusion was advanced in a summary of world conditions in which the secretary viewed the high degree of economic activity in the western hemisphere, Asia and Africa and the undoubted progress in Russia, the Balkan States and the Near East together with the promise of early conference toward solution of the reparations problem, as creating a hopeful foundation for the new year.

The economic world generally, however, has not yet "felt the full impact of the occupation of the Ruhr," Mr. Hoover declared, adding that the German collapse, not only "radiates its depressing influence strongly" over most of Europe, but has in less degree affected every other part of the world.

GENERAL OF FEDERAL FORCE DENIES BEING DEFEATED BY REBELS

Obregon Reports Advancement of Troops Slow
But Sure

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 31.—General Lazaro Cardenas, well known as a dashing cavalry leader, has telegraphed the Mexican ministry of war denying reports emanating from rebel sources to the effect that he had been defeated in battle, his forces scattered and himself wounded and taken prisoner, according to press despatches from Mexico City, Monday night.

However, Cardenas confirmed the reported death of General Paulino Navarro, Cardenas' second in command. The message said that Navarro had been too bold in leading a force of 400 men against a far superior force at Extradistas. Navarro, himself was killed and his column forced to retreat.

Cardenas said he was at Jijilpan, Jalisco, awaiting orders to join the army of General Amaro for the advance against Guadalupe.

President Obregon who has returned to the capital, announced that it would not be necessary for him to lead the troops in person against Guadalupe.

Progress of the federal forces toward Guadalupe was described by Obregon as "slow but sure."

The government of President Obregon has taken steps against senators and deputies who are making propaganda in favor of the revolutionary movement headed by de la Huerta.

A senator and deputy have been made prisoners, the first in Tampico and the second in San Angelo, on charges of rebellion, according to Mexico City press despatches reaching here tonight.

The apprehension of the representatives of the Mexican senate was made by military authorities in accordance with orders issued by the ministry of war, the dispatch says.

HOUSE MEMBERS WILL CONSIDER SOLDIER BONUS

Republican Former Service Men Prepare for Conference

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Advisability of holding a conference of house Republicans next week for the purpose of discussing the soldiers' bonus was questioned today by Representative Longworth, the Republican leader on his return from a holiday visit to Ohio. He declined, however to go into details as to his views beyond declaring that there should be "some affirmative action on tax reduction," and explaining that he had been unable to discuss the legislative program with other party leaders.

Despite Mr. Longworth's opinion former service men among Republican members of the house continued preparations for the conference which they propose should be held January 10. They declared they would have enough signatures to petitions to insure the issuance of a conference call and reiterated their intention of attempting to put the Republican membership on record in favor of a report by the ways and means committee of a bonus bill by January 21 and a vote on the proposition in the house before Feb. 1.

One of those who expressed the opinion today that the ways and means committee would report a bonus bill and that it undoubtedly would be passed by the house was Representative Treadway of Massachusetts, a Republican member of the committee and an opponent of bonus legislation. He said he was convinced a majority of the committee and of the house membership favored passage of a bonus bill.

Mr. Treadway reported that he had polled the voters of his district to ascertain their views on the bonus. Returns from 78,000 letters mailed to his constituents showed, he said that eleven out of every seventeen sending in replies were opposed to the granting of a bonus.

"The result of my poll," said Mr. Treadway, "convince me that a majority of the public prefers tax reduction to soldiers' bonus."

As to the fate of the Mellon tax bill Mr. Treadway said Republicans favoring its enactment would need the support of Democrats to insure its success. He predicted that some Democrats and Republican insurgents would make a fight for higher surtax rates than those provided for in the treasury draft and to restore the excess profits taxes.

"If the Democrats and insurgents," he added, "were to unite on such a program a tax revision bill would go thru congress that President Coolidge would have to veto."

STUDENT CONVENTION IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR SUNDAY MEETING

Non - Resistance Resolution On Floor Deeply Regretted

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 31.—Denial that the student volunteer movement was in any way connected with or responsible for a student mass meeting here Sunday which adopted a non-resistance resolution was made tonight in a signed statement issued by leaders in the gathering.

"The meeting was purely individual and had nothing to do with the student volunteer movement convention," it was asserted. The statement was signed by Howard P. Becker, a student at Northwestern University who interrupted the scheduled program of the volunteer convention Sunday morning with the announcement that a special meeting to discuss war would be held between convention sessions Sunday afternoon.

The mass meeting which was attended by many convention delegates who had misinterpreted its purposes, adopted a resolution calling "upon the students of America" to pledge themselves on Armistice Day, 1924, to "refuse thenceforth to aid in the prosecution of war either directly or indirectly."

Becker, who is an accredited delegate to the Volunteer convention, declared in his statement that the irregular announcement of the mass meeting from the convention floor is "deeply regretted."

DEALERS OF CHICAGO REJECT PRICE FIXED BY MILK PRODUCERS

Offer Compromise Covering
Period of Three Months

CHICAGO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Six milk dealers said to represent nearly one half of the milk distributed in Chicago tonight rejected a price of $2.75 a hundred pounds for milk for a period of six months or $2.85 for three months asked by the Milk Producers' association. It was announced after a closed conference between the milk board of the producers and the dealers.

The rejection came in the face of a producers' threat to refuse to furnish milk to the distributors after tonight when the present contract expires unless their demands are met. The producers framed their demands at a meeting today and a few minutes later presented them to the distributors.

Dealers furnished 1,150,000 pounds of the 2,100,000 pounds of milk sold in Chicago daily have agreed to cut off their supply, according to Frank T. Fowler, spokesman for the producers.

The dealers offered the producers a price of $2.60 a hundred pounds for three months which they declared is 10 cents higher than the price paid for the same period last year. Dealers represented were the Bowman Dairy company; Borden's Farm Products company; Wieland Dairy company; J. M. Dairy company; Wanzel Dairy company and Natoma-Huntley Dairy company. F. H. Kullman, representing the Bowman company declared Chicago would have plenty of milk in spite of the threat of the producers.

The smaller dealers who take care of part of Chicago's supply have agreed to pay the price asked by the producers according to Frank T. Holt, president of the Producers' organization.

TREASURY SHOWS MORE RECEIPTS THAN LAST YEAR

Government Has In- crease of More Than Half Billion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The government closed its financial books for the year tonight with a record of having received $4,164,905,600, almost half a billion dollars more than was paid into the treasury in the calendar year 1923. Its expenditures were $3,885,063,082 leaving a net balance of $279,542,518.

The year just closed was marked by unusual activity at the treasury. It funded the Great Britain war time debt and the smaller obligation of Finland, it refunded into easy handling form the last of the $4,500,000,000 Victory Loan and more than $2,000,000,000 other government securities and made steady progress toward reducing the huge war time debt of this country.

Its budget for the last fiscal year as balanced and officials are confident that the policy of retrenchment has made possible another year of debt reduction and solid government financing.

Swelling receipts during the calendar year 1923, marked the government's two chief revenue sources—internal taxes on incomes and duties collected at the customs house.

Treasury records show income and profits tax payments for 1923 totaled $1,868,698,422 as compared with $1,501,604,002 for 1922. Customs revenue for 1923 the greatest in the history of the country aggregated $582,589,015 about $125,000,000 more than the previous year.

OFFICER ARRESTED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

MARION, Ill., Dec. 31. (AP)—State prohibition enforcement officer Glen Young, was arrested today and at once filed bond for $1,000 on a charge of assault preferred by Paul Corder, local merchant who was badly beaten by Young last night.

The trouble started when the two were engaged in an argument over the recent arrest of Wallace A. Bandy, state representative Friday night who was charged with having illicit liquor in his home. Corder alleges that Young and six other men in his party drew guns on him. Young made the statement that the arrest of Bandy was a "frame up" on the part of the state's attorney.

State's Attorney Duty in a signed statement in a local newspaper today denied that the arrest was a frameup and declared the arrest was brought about because of complaints against Bandy for the past year. Bandy has been assisting Young in the recent raids and had a prominent part in the planning of the raid a week ago when a hundred arrests were made of bootleggers and resort conspirators.

The Conejos carried a crew, in addition to her captain and six officers of about thirty seamen. The vessel went down in the Black Sea last Thursday and it is believed that all hands were lost.

A THOUGHT

Wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth the silly one.—Job 5:2.

Bad temper is its own scourge. Few things are bitterer than to feel bitter. A man's venom poisons himself more than his victim.—Charles Buxton.

WHAT MORE IS REQUIRED
Mr. McAdoo says that there is need for more effective regulation of the railroads. It would be interesting to know definitely what McAdoo has in mind. The Government now fixes the rates the railroads can charge for their service, and fixes the wages of 97 percent of the payroll. The Federal Government fixes the local taxes. It is difficult to figure out any additional regulations that could be imposed without the Government being under obligations to take the roads over entirely and own and operate them.

ALIEN REGISTRATION

There should be no opposition to the bill for the registration of aliens. Certain ill-advised foreign language newspapers appears to be against it, the measure is not aimed at them or the law-abiding individuals who emigrate to our shores. The purpose of the bill is to place in the hands of the government an effective weapon with which to combat influences that are working to overthrow our institutions.

The Department of Justice has declared that alien registration and anti-secession laws will do more to stamp out communism in the United States than any other legislation that can be enacted. William J. Burns, head of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department, asserts that there would not be ships enough to hold the radicals who would scurry from the country the moment an alien registration bill became a law. Surely no foreign-language newspaper can afford to stand in the way of such house cleaning legislation.

NEW YEAR'S CUSTOMS

Peoples whose bones dissolved into dust centuries ago, used to celebrate New Year's day with the same enthusiasm that is seen in crowded city streets and places of entertainment today.

Back 747 years before Christ, the old Romans used to go out into the wood consecrated to Strenia, the goddess of strength, and cut off branches and give them to their King Tatius, thus expressing a wish that the power of the gods might descend on him. New Year's presents are said to have originated from this custom. During these early days, the idea started of making New Year's a day of festivity, and the new period of time was introduced by exchanging visits, masquerading and feasting. Thus to streams of tendency are seen to mark this popular holiday.

The philosophical person may well combine both points of view. His life is one sided if there is not some merry making in it. New Year's is an appropriate time for it. But also he needs, like the old Romans again, to seek for some moments of seclusion, when he too plucks the sources of power those motives of worship and purpose that shall help another year to bring him substantial results in the harvest of life.

PREPARING TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

Before the present month is over representatives of Illinois cities will meet in Elgin with the purpose of formulating a uniform traffic ordinance. For weeks past this important subject has been under consideration in many cities, and representatives of these cities have been working out as nearly as possible a model ordinance that can be used as a basis for legislation. It is realized that many difficulties are presented because of the great difference in cities. However, it is believed that a uniform ordinance can be worked out, which will be exceedingly helpful.

The revision of the Jacksonville traffic ordinance has been under consideration by the Jacksonville city council for an extended period. There have been delays which seemed necessary. Now the council has an ordinance in process but will await final action until the result of the Elgin conference is known.

The council purposes to adopt what is recommended by the Elgin meeting, making such revision as local conditions may require.

WHO WAS HE?

Here is a mystery. In 1832 an artist took a block of marble and sculptured a bust of one of the great men of that period in the world's history. Since then this marble bust has been on exhibit

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

TURN over the page, for a year is done
And nineteen hundred and twenty-three
Is a book that isn't—but used to be;
A thing that isn't—but used to be;
Here's a brand new page and a brand new pen
With which to scribble some brand new lore.
We can't write last year over again
So—what'll we write in '24?

SHALL we carry over the last year's hope
Of greed, hypocrisy, hate and doubt?
Or shall we substitute Love and Hope
And leave those uglier passions out?
Here's a brand new page, and a brand new chance
For a brand new tally, a brand new score.
What'll we write on this clean expanse,
What'll we write in '24?

THE blots and errors of '23
The blurs and scratches are absent here.
For this is a brand new page we see.
A brand new page and a brand new year.
What ever is written is ours to write;
Shall we improve on the days of yore?
It's up to us—here's a page that's white,
What'll we write in '24?

WHITE HALL CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Review of Year Just Ended Shows Many Improvements Made in White Hall During Twelve Months Period.

White Hall, Dec. 31.—White Hall has closed a year of the largest output of clay products in history, and enters upon the new year with an excellent outlook for business and the things that mean the evolution of human character, matters too little considered in connection with municipal affairs.

The past year has witnessed another record in an industrial way, in that the hog cholera serum plant, Gregory Farm Laboratory, has produced a new record output that perhaps doubles that of any previous year. The plant is being operated through the winter for the first time.

In the matter of public works attention became focused upon the water situation during the summer and fall to an extent that overshadowed the proposition of carrying out the mandate of the voters to install a municipal electric system. Attention was directed to the water supply early during the shortage, with the result that local industrial activities were not curtailed during the period of the worst water shortage in local meteorological annals, and it probably will not be necessary to submit the proposed bond issue of $192,000 for additional reservoir facilities, and the fate of the $54,000 in bonds authorized for the electric system can not be determined, after ineffectual efforts to secure a statement from Mayor H. W. Roodhouse, an staunch and unyielding advocate of the municipal electric proposition, and it will be necessary to take steps before next year if it is to retain its legal status.

On this point Mayor Roodhouse recently submitted some figures to the city council. He showed that the assessed value of property in the city is $1,315,213.50. At that time there was only one item of bonded indebtedness, amounting to $1,000, which has since been liquidated, and he figured that there was a floating indebtedness of no large extent. This financial showing gives the city power to issue bonds to the extent of $65,761.57, and using $54,000 of this for the purpose of erecting an electric system would still leave a margin of $10,761.57, less the floating debt at that time, two months ago. This is the basis of the mayor's advocacy of pushing the electric proposition.

The first hard road in the state as an experimental proposition was built by the state highway commission east from the C. and A. track along Bridgeport street through the city, ending at a point 2 1/2 miles west. This was in 1913. The binding or surfacing material did not produce the results expected, and the throughfare became an exceedingly rough one. This condition has prevailed for so many years that it was beginning to be accepted as unavoidable, until a powerful steam tractor and plow was put on the job last week, turning up the surface gravel, and the net result has been more than anticipated. It is now an excellent road of a gravel type, with a bed as substantial as has ever been constructed.

The concluding business of the year was reflected in the large increase of postal business during the holiday season. The regular mailing business of the local postoffice has been increasing annually for fifteen years, during which time the postmaster's salary has increased from $1,800 to $2,400, and indications point to a decided increase during 1924 with a new plan of mailing adopted by Gregory Farm Laboratory and the stoneware concerns.

The chain grocery store made its advent during the past year. Two are now in operation, and a building has been leased by a third. Trade of other stores has not been affected to a disastrous point by any means, and it is figured that the result has been an increased volume of retail trade coming here. In other retail lines it is reported that the holiday trade, while strictly along the holiday lines, exceeded any former holiday season, and that the trade in rubber and heavy-wear goods is yet to come along with the first advent of real winter weather.

The new library on Whiteside park has been completed, the club room accommodating a meeting last week for the first time. The library proper will be moved in during January and plans for a formal dedication will follow. This cost $30,000. A new high school has been occupied since the beginning of the school term, with minor items of finishing work in progress since. This improvement cost $125,000.

Several attractive residences have been erected and remodelled during the year, and work is still in progress on some of these, notably the new Shaw residence on Franklin street and the Blake residence on North Carrollton street.

A chicken hatchery being installed by Mike Daley on his Centennial street premises will have a capacity of 2,800 chicks when utilized to full capacity.

The First Baptist church rebuilt its edifice at a cost of $20,000.

An overall factory is getting well underway in the property formerly the Western Stoneware Co.

CARS COLLIDE ON WEST NORTH STREET

Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock a Ford Coupe, owned by Muriel Cain and driven by his brother Fred Cain, collided with a Nash touring car driven by John Wilkie at the corner of North West street and West North street, doing considerable damage to both cars but injuring the occupants very little.

Mr. Cain was travelling north on West street and Mr. Wilkie was going east on North street when the crash occurred. The Ford was turned upon its side and very badly smashed up. The right side of the Nash was also damaged to some extent, but both drivers escaped with no more serious damages than that of a very bad shake-up for both.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a natural action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow or dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head aches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c

MELLON PROPHECIES PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Secretary Mellon looks with confidence to a prosperous 1924, altho he said in a New Year's message tonight that much depended upon continued effort of the country to keep its financial house in order. He mentioned at the same time the effect favorable action by congress on the tax measure would have on the economic condition of the nation.

"I am convinced," his message said, "that if the tax reduction proposals are enacted into law and the sound policy of retrenchment in expenditures is continued the coming year will witness a steady improvement in the favorable conditions which have already begun to make themselves felt and this country will enjoy prosperity in 1924."

The secretary recounted the efforts of the treasury to place governmental fiscal affairs on a sound footing and declared the recovery of business from the "severe industrial depression" was remarkable.

"Much depends upon the continued efforts of the country to keep its financial house in order holding down expenditures and following sound policies as regards new undertakings," the message said.

HOGS LOWER BUT PORK COST MORE

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Hog prices dropped 14.4 per cent in 1923 but the housewife paid about as much for pork as she did a year ago and even more for lard, the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation declared in a statement tonight. Hog markets are flooded, the corn surplus of 1921 was turned into an equally burdensome supply of corn and since last spring hog producers have not been making enough to cover production costs, the report declared.

Most of the drop in wholesale prices was absorbed by the retailers, the report said, but said that there is more indication of an improvement in the market soon, adding that it is doubtful if any slight increase in wholesale prices will reflect on retail prices.

Several jail sentences were also meted out to the violators of the prohibition laws to persons who unlawfully possessed, sold and transporting intoxicating liquors.

PATIENT IS RETURNED TO HOSPITAL

The sheriff's office had a call yesterday afternoon to Davis Switch, where a man was seen acting strangely. Deputies Burch and Strawn made a trip to the Switch and found a colored man seeking shelter from the cold and wind behind the water tower near the railroad.

Investigation revealed the fact that the man's name was Jackson and had escaped from the Jacksonville State Hospital. When found the man was suffering considerably from the cold and the deputies brought him back and turned him over to the authorities at the hospital.

He has been in the hospital since the injury to his spine, caused by a fall when he attempted to turn a hand-spring, which paralyzed him. According to Mrs. McCurley's letter, which was sent to Mrs. Joseph Ludwig on South East street, Harold had taken a few steps that day.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN HASTINGS

Mrs. Robert Brown Passed Away in Western State

Mrs. Anna Brown, widow of the late Robert Brown, and at one time a resident of Morgan county, died recently at her home in Hastings, Neb. The family was resident here for a long period and in more recent years their home had been in Hastings.

Mrs. James I. Barrows and other local relatives have been notified of Mrs. Brown's death, which is recorded in the following paragraphs from the Hastings Tribune:

Mrs. Anna Brown, a well known resident of Hastings for many years, passed away peacefully at 7 o'clock Christmas morning at her home, 907 North Kansas avenue.

Mrs. Brown, the mother of Mrs. P. L. Johnson, was the widow of Robert Brown, a well known Hastings business man, who died in March, 1905.

For eight years Mrs. Brown had been an invalid. She sank rapidly in the ten days preceding her death and for the last ten days had not recognized members of the family.

Three of the four surviving children, Mrs. Mary Louise Johnson of Hastings, Mrs. Caroline E. McLaughlin of Doniphan and the Rev. James B. Brown were present when Mrs. Brown died.

Another daughter, Mrs. Lucy C. Tolladay of Portland, Ore., will not be able to attend the funeral.

One daughter, Mrs. Lillian A. Steele, died some years ago in Brooklyn.

Throughout her life in Hastings Mrs. Brown was an active worker in the Presbyterian church and an active supporter of Christian work and of Hastings college, especially.

Mrs. Brown was born Mar. 24, 1839 in Morgan county, Ill. She was the daughter of Barnabas and Mary Barrows, and was married to Robert Brown, Feb. 22, 1864. Mr. Brown was at that time a soldier in the Union Army.

"BRINGING UP FATHER" AT THE GRAND TODAY

Something radically a departure from the usual and conventional in musical comedy is promised in "Bringing Up Father On Broadway" which is to hold the boards at the Grand theater today, matinee and night, with the customary matinees. The new cartoon play, based on the famous comics by George McManus, is in two acts and five scenes. John P. Mulgrew is the author of the book and lyrics. A real plot involving plenty of side-splitting complications and situations and written on original lines takes the various characters around the world. Of course, the beloved Jiggs Mahoney will be a conspicuous figure.

And it may be assured that Maggie, his termagant better half, along with Dinty Moore and Kiddy are also in the limelight. Maggie still contrives how to spend "Father's" money, her social aspirations having not been squelched even in the face of past failures and tribulations. An elaborate and up-to-the-minute production, the employment of a capable cast, a pretty bevy of chorus girls and other original features should provide unusual entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McHenry and family of Lincoln returned to their home Sunday, after a visit at the home of Thomas McGinnis on Sandusky street.

YOUNG LAD BADLY HURT BY PLAYMATE

Ralph Hutchinson Jr., Shot in Head With Rifle by Charles Williamson Jr., While at Target Practice—No Change in Condition

Monday morning while playing in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, 512 West College street, Ralph Hutchinson, Jr., 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson of 343 South Diamond street, suffered an injury from a 22 calibre rifle which may prove fatal.

Ralph and Charles Williamson, Jr., who reside in the neighborhood were playing with Gordon Walker in his yard, with two air rifles and the 22 calibre rifle. They had been target shooting and the Hutchinson boy ran in front of the rifle just as the Williamson boy shot at the target. The bullet penetrated the skull and lodged there.

The injured lad was removed to Passavant hospital where everything possible was done to properly care for his case under the direction of Drs. Bowe, Reid, and Norris. At an early hour this morning it was reported that he was holding his own and apparently in less pain.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS.

No. 1.

"What was your income for the year 1923?"

The Bureau of Internal Revenue today is addressing this question to every citizen and resident of the United States.

Endeavor correctly to answer this and other questions relating to income and income tax will be made by the vast majority of persons who annually are required to file an individual income tax return.

However, as evidenced by the files of the Bureau of Internal Revenue thousands of taxpayers are without exact knowledge of the requirements of the revenue act in relation to such obligation.

The result is the filing of an incorrect return, frequently to the detriment of the taxpayer who fails to take advantage of allowable exemptions and deductions.

As an aid in the preparation of individual income tax returns for the year 1923 the Bureau of Internal Revenue has prepared a series of articles based on the latest rulings and decisions governing the administration of the revenue act. The salaried man, wage earner, professional and business man, farmer, in fact every class of taxpayer, will be informed fully of the requirements and privileges. Taxpayers are advised to preserve these articles as a guide in the making of their returns.

Every single person whose net income for 1923 was $1,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more must file a return. Divorces or persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons. Married persons living together are required to file a return if the aggregate net income was $2,000 or more, or if the aggregate gross income was $5,000 or more. Husband and wife may include the income of each in a single joint return, or may file separate returns, showing the income of each.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Poultry Expert Coming—G. W. McIlroy, extension poultry specialist, for the College of Agriculture will be here January 9th. We expect to hold several community meetings and one night meeting while he is here. An especial effort will be made to have him meet the women of the county who have cooperated with the farm bureau and the College of Agriculture in keeping records during the past year.

Do You Want to Work More Horses Per Man?—The selection of a proper combination of hitches and implements for the efficient use of man and horse labor is still a means of reducing the cost of production and of increasing production per man. Our improvement in agricultural production during the last one hundred years is most noticeable in increased production per man. This has been brought about for the most part by increased efficiency in the use of both man and horse labor. There is opportunity for continued improvement along this line, many farmers are still using four horses abreast in plowing when four horses, hitched two in front and two behind, would pull the plow more easily and get more work done in a day. There are other farmers who are handling only two and three horses when they could cover twice the ground with five or six. Banks grow rich on their six per cent, farmers certainly cannot afford to lose, 10, 15, or even 25 per cent of their power by the use of improper hitches.

Buy Soybeans Early—The supply in this county is hardly equal to the demand. Outside seed houses will buy every available bean at prices that will yield a profit to the grower. Don't let beans be shipped out and then pay two or three commissions and a freight bill when they come back.

Demand for Building Plans—The requests are so numerous for plans for arrangement and building plans that the farm bureau office has ordered a complete set of blue prints of plans prepared by the farm mechanics department of the College of Agriculture. When we consider the inconveniently arranged farms and badly planned farm buildings it is regrettable that such service has not been available for years.

Do You Want to Keep a Farm Account Book?—The farm bureau wishes to get 25 young farmers from various parts of the county to keep simple farm account books in 1924. These books will not be for public inspection. We shall have the assistance of M. L. Mosher of the College of Agriculture in opening and closing these accounts. This is planned primarily for those who have not heretofore kept farm accounts. We will gladly arrange for enterprise accounts for the more experienced.

What Is Meant by the Co-operative Marketing of Livestock?—Most of the producers of livestock understand that shipping livestock thru their own local association is generally a more economical way of marketing than selling to a buyer. This may be true due to the fact that the careful buyer must have a reasonable margin of safety in buying, while in shipping thru the association the producer carries the risk. However, many producers do not understand the matter of rebates from a co-operative concern. To share in the profits a shipper must hold a membership or else be a member of a local shipping association holding a membership. The Chicago Producers are holding $5,000 in refunds due shipping associations who have not signed membership applications. Either the manager or directors have only partially grasped the plan of co-operative marketing.

ODD INCIDENTS GAVE NICKNAMES TO CLUBS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, (AP)—There are few baseball fans in the country who cannot tell offhand the nicknames of the various clubs in the two major leagues. However, there are probably fewer who can tell the origin of those nicknames.

The New York club of the National League has always been called the Giants. The name was applied back in the eighties, when none but large men were considered for the team. It has stuck, notwithstanding that Manager McGraw in recent years has had some comparatively small men on his team.

Cincinnati clings to the Reds, an abbreviated form of Red Stockings which originated from the red stockings worn by the famous old Cincinnati team of the late sixties, one of the first professional baseball organizations. Some sporting writers shortened the name to Red Legs and later to Reds.

The Pittsburgh club got the name Pirates from Louisville with the transfer of the latter's players to Pittsburgh when the National League reduced from 12 to eight clubs. The name is said to have been first applied to Louisville because of that club's successful scramble for players at the close of the Brotherhood war of 1891.

During the leadership of the late Captain Adrian C. Anson the Chicago Nationals were known as Anson's Colts because the players, young and fast, often were referred to as being "frisky as colts." When Anson left the team other names were suggested but none proved popular until a Chicago sporting editor hit upon Cubs as conveying the same idea as Colts, and besides being convenient for head-writing purposes.

ways have been known as the Cardinals from the color of their hosiery. Some writers shorten the name to Cards. The Philadelphia club has been known popularly as the Phillies, a contraction of the city's name, for 40 years. Sometimes the name Quakers is applied, Philadelphia being known as the Quaker City.

Brooklyn has had several nicknames. One of the first was the Superbas, derived from Hanlon's Superbas, a vaudeville act which was a hit throughout the country about the time Ned Hanlon became manager of the club. After his departure Brooklyn became one of the first big trolley car centers in the country and the name Trolley Dodgers, later shortened to Dodgers, was adopted and still sticks to the club. In later years the club has been called Robins in honor of the present manager, Wilbur Robinson.

The Boston club for many years was known as the Beaneaters because of the city's famous dish, Boston baked beans. Then the club was called the Doves in honor of George S. Dovey, a former owner, and since the ownership of James E. Gaffney has been nicknamed the Braves. This is said to have come from the owner's close affiliation with Tammany Hall and the Tammany Braves. Another version of the origin of the name is that it came from Tecumseh, a Shawnee Indian chief. The players familiarly called Manager Stallings chief and linked that with his middle initial "S" as for Tecumseh, although his name is George Tweedy Stallings.

COLLINS HEADS CLASS A BALKLINE PLAYERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Percy H. Collins of the Illinois A. C. heads the Class A. C. balkline billiard players in the annual ranking announced today by Julian Rice, chairman of the ranking committee of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players.

Charles P. Mathews, of New York heads the Class B. list and Frank Gray of Brooklyn, the Class C. group.

JUST HIT THE BALL
Stewart Malden, Atlanta golf professional, who made national champions of Bobby Jones and Alex Stirling, says golf beginners would get along a whole lot better if they disregarded all they ever heard of golf technique and concentrated on hitting the ball. "Get a feeling of mastery over the ball in the beginning and then the technical features come easier," he explains.

Billy Evans SAYS

Last season was a particularly tough one for minor league umpires. Close races in many leagues, which made for much excitement and frenzied fans, naturally caused much woe for the umpires. In some of the leagues the umpires in order to protect themselves were compelled to call upon their knowledge of boxing. All in all it was a strenuous year for the minor leaguers. Incidentally, it should act as a warning to minor league presidents and club owners that if worthwhile men are to take up umpiring more ample protection must be provided.

Prior to coming to the American League, Mullaney had officiated in various minor organizations, among them being what was then known as the Connecticut League. According to Mullaney, that league was a wild-west affair, a regular Ranch 101. When he wasn't making some player take the count for refusing to listen to reason he was busy separating rival ball players eager to clash.

One day Mullaney received a letter from the president of the league, asking him for information as to the ability of a certain umpire. Mullaney, who had a keen sense of humor, wrote back:

"What's the difference? You don't need umpires. What you want to hire is a lot of pugilists and fight referees." A few weeks later Mullaney himself was looking for a job. Proving that very often the truth hurts most.

PETERSBURG FOES OF DOKAYS TONIGHT

The Dokay basketball team will try to end up their Happy New Year by winning a happy victory over the fast-stepping Petersburg Independents in that city this evening. Several games have been played in previous years between the two teams and as a result the keenest rivalry exists.

If dope can be given any credence, the Dokays should stand a very good chance to win, as the Dokays recently took the Franklin team over the course and handed it to them by a margin of 11 points, while the Petersburg five carried away only 4 extra points after their game, but many a dope bucket has been unexplainably upset and the Jacksonville quintet may have to use all their pep to be able to come home fully satisfied.

SHINES ON THE BASES
Eddie Collins, White Sox celebrity, in his seventeenth season, in the majors, stole 49 bases. He tied with Carey of Pittsburgh for high honors. Collins was nabbed on 29 other attempts, a percentage of 628. His record is all the more noteworthy when it is considered that the St. Louis Browns pilfered but 64 sacks all campaign. In 1922 Carey swiped 51 bases, more than the entire Philly outfit put together. In an era where the art of stealing has been greatly neglected, Collins and Carey have displayed some clever work on the paths.

McMILLAN OF ILLINOIS
One of the best guards in the country in 1923 was McMillan, the Zuppke leader. In every game the Suckers played the giant line-man's performance was one of the big features. Much of Grange's success at lugging the leather was due to McMillan's assistance. But the Illini star didn't place on any of Camp's three All-America teams. McMillan may not have been as good a man as Hubbard of Harvard or Bedek of Penn State, but he certainly seemed to have enough stuff to earn a position on at least one of the three selections.

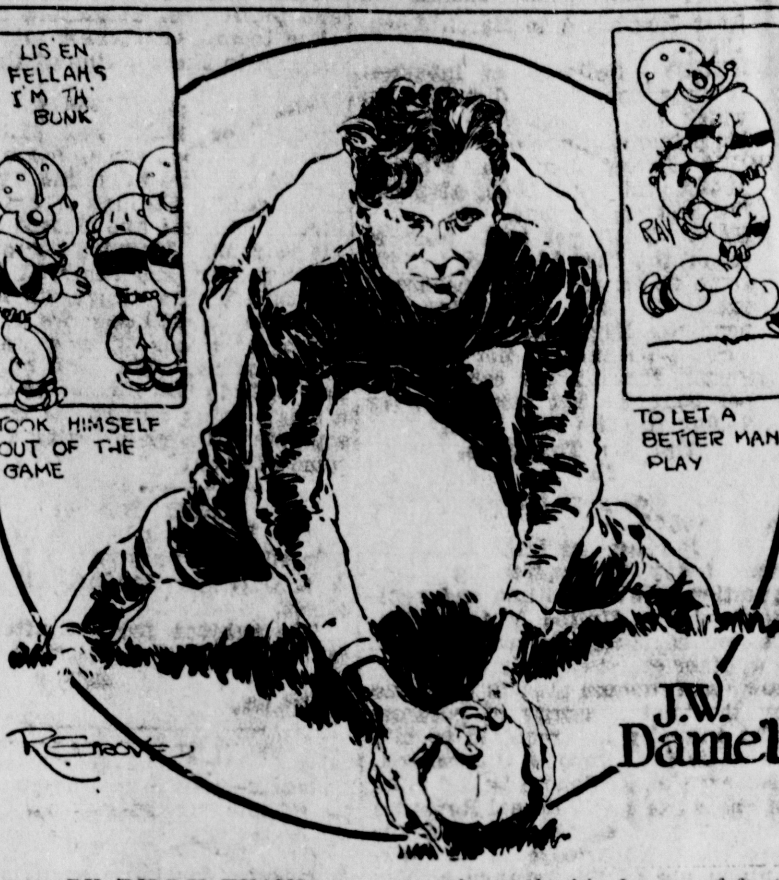

FOUR TEAMS ON PAR
According to the official averages, four American League teams were just about on an equal footing defensively. The quartet comprised Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and Washington. The Tigers and White Sox each allowed 741 runs during the season while Cleveland permitted 746 and the Nationals 747. The Yanks were low with 622.

SEVERAL VARSITY CAPTAINS FAILED TO PLAY FINAL GAME

BY BILLY EVANS.
"Football is no game for the weakling. It is strenuous sport that calls for real men, not only physically but mentally. It is the typical college sport. The individual no matter how great, must be subordinated to the team, if success is to be achieved."

A prominent western football coach, who tutored many championship teams, recently so expressed himself to me in discussing football pro and con.

Football is no game for the selfish. That point was driven home by the famous coach during our conversation. He pointed out that no one player was bigger than the game or college. The player who failed to learn such a lesson had failed from a football standpoint.

The 1923 season, replete with football thrills, was not without its pathos. To be elected captain of a college football eleven is an honor cherished by every athlete. It is one of the greatest tributes that can be paid a player.

The final game of every college player's career is one of the big moments of his life. There are certain emotions that go with the final game that characterizes no other contests. Usually the final game of every college schedule is the all-important affair, the clash with an ancient rival, the big game of the year.

Every captain playing his last game looks forward to that contest as the climax of his football career. Such being the case, it is easy to imagine the feelings of a college captain who because some other player is superior at the same position, is kept out of the lineup.

The 1923 season produced three decidedly unusually happenings in this respect. The final game of the year to three football leaders carried with it nothing but disappointment. Two of the captains met the situation with the courage of a brave soldier. One of the captains, if reports are true, failed

NEW RIVAL FOR CENTRE COLLEGE

Texas Turns Out Latest Wonder Team of Gridiron—Six Years Ago School Was Considered Too Small for Southern Conference

(By NEA Service)
DALLAS, Texas.—Remember Centre college, and the great rise of the Praying Colonels of that school on the gridiron?

Get ready for the coming of the next great eleven.

Six years ago Southern Methodist University of Dallas was regarded as too small and too inferior to be given a place in the Southwestern Conference.

In 1918 the school finally gained entrance to that circle, the elite in football in the southwest. It struggled along until late in the season of 1922 before it won a conference game.

This year it is, champion of the southwest, having gone thru nine games without being tied or defeated and having been scored against only twice.

The Mustangs, as the S. M. U. players are billed, played a tougher schedule than any team in the conference. Texas is the only unbeaten school, but the Dallas team has first claim to the championship by virtue of five conference victories against two and one tie by Texas.

Treated Baylor to Surprise.
The State University Longhorns only got a tie with Baylor, while S. M. U. wound up its schedule Thanksgiving Day with a surprising 16 to 0 victory over the 1922 champion Baylor Bears, who outweighed them 17 pounds to the man on a damp field.

How did they do it? It was hard to believe. Stunniest backfield of S. M. U. were calling their performance a pure part of luck even after they had run up four conference victories. But 1349 people, the largest crowd that ever saw a football game here, were "christianized" and sold outright on the Mustangs' Thanksgiving when their world passing attack humbled the highly touted, more experienced, heavier Baylor eleven, which also was unbeaten before the S. M. U. game.

Southern Methodist University is probably the only school in the country with a co-operative coaching system—that is, it has no head coach. Ray Morrison coaches the backfield and the ends. Ewing Freeland coaches the line.

If Freeland finds a fault with the quarterback and wants to correct it or change his style, he does it and Morrison does not object. If Ray doesn't like the way the center is playing, his instructions to that player is welcomed by Freeland.

Former Vanderbilt Stars
Back of this co-operative system is an interesting story. Fifteen years ago Vanderbilt University at Nashville was one of the leading schools in the south. It shined in all athletics. Two important reasons were:

On the baseball diamond Ray Morrison did the receiving and led off at bat. Ewing "Bigam" Freeland played first base and batted third. Invariably this combination produced runs or killed off prospective tallies by the opposition.

On the football field, Freeland played tackle and made a hole. Ray Morrison was the all-southern quarterback on the team and he went thru that hole. The pair played together on 11 teams at Vanderbilt.

It is an unusual coincidence that they should unite again 15 years later as co-coaches of the champions of the southwest.

THE LONGEST RUN
Arthur Evans, halfback of the Swarthmore football eleven, made the longest run of the year when he picked up a ball fumbled by Rae McGraw of Pennsylvania, four yards back of Swarthmore's own goal line, and then hiked from this point clear across the enemy goal line, a distance of 104 yards.

Mexican rebels called off their war for a day and celebrated in the cabarets. It appears that General Sherman was misquoted.

Tex Rickard insists there are plenty of referees, but fails to add what they are good for.

The A. A. U. investigators have found Paddock guilty of the horrible crime of calling in a doctor to treat a case of flu.

We have no idea what made Paddock sick but we suspect it was some of the puritanical utterances made by amateur officials.

Of course Paddock will be permitted to compete in the Olympiad. Not that his record may be perfectly clean but because he is a great box office attraction.

Have you ever noticed what a surprisingly professional touch these amateur athletic organizations use in operating the turnstiles?

Which reminds us that in these days when a person cuts off his nose it is not to spite his face so much as to improve it.

In the prize ring Eugene Criqui may have been merely a featherweight, but in the esteem of men he was very much of a heavyweight.

Because he is strictly a defensive fighter Gibbons will not be rematched with Dempsey. We trust this is no offense, Tommy.

The sporting writers say Connie Mack has been on a spending orgy, and we are wondering what he bought for those three dollars.

STRIBLING TO MIX WITH ROSENBERG TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The New Year in metropolitan fistic circles will be ushered in tomorrow with an unusual array of attractions, headed by a 12-round match at Newark, in which Young Stribling, Georgia school boy, will battle Dave Rosenberg, Brooklyn middleweight.

Stribling's first appearance in action locally has attracted keen interest, especially as the 19 year old southern youth will be opposed by a rugged ring veteran who formerly was recognized as middleweight champion in this state.

Both Stribling and Rosenberg were reported today to be in excellent condition.

Jack Dempsey has reserved ringside seats for tomorrow's bout.

Two other promising fight cards are on the holiday program.

Kid Williams of Baltimore, former bantamweight champion who is attempting a comeback will battle Midget Smith, while on another card Eddie Brady of Brooklyn is matched with Bobby Garcia, of the army in a featherweight tussle.

Bud Taylor, Chicago bantamweight, is pitted against Sammy Nable of New York.

NAVY AND WASHINGTON TAKE FINAL WORKOUT

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 31.—The football teams of the naval academy and the University of Washington, which will attempt to settle their gridiron argument here tomorrow went into their final workouts late today, each figuratively speaking with one eye on the ball and the other on the sky.

The squad from Seattle appeared to get more satisfaction out of their meteorology than did the middies. Clouds hung over the sun and the Seattle heavyweights believed that a little rain wouldn't do them any harm while it might slow up the nimble feet of the horn pipers from Annapolis.

Both teams looked to be in the best of shape.

Sport followers are fluctuating between a desire to make the Washington boys 3 to 2 favorites and a disposition to permit the two teams to take the field with an even break.

Mrs. J. W. Hankins of Springfield is visiting relatives in the city.

SPALLA SAILS TO MEET LUIS FIRPO

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Cable despatches telling of the departure of Ennio Spalla, European heavyweight champion for Buenos Aires, where he expects to fight Luis Firpo, came as a surprise to night to Tex Rickard and upset the promoter's plans for a match between Spalla and Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, which had been announced for February 1, at Madison Square Garden.

"I have an agreement with Spalla's American managers, binding the Italian heavyweight champion to an engagement with Tunney on February 1," declared Rickard. "Spalla's managers showed me a signed contract with Spalla, and I consider them his official representatives."

"Of course if Spalla goes thru with a bout with Firpo in Buenos Aires, it is not likely he would be in a position to meet Tunney as early as February 1. If by any chance, Firpo should defeat him, Spalla would no longer be a real card here."

"I must wait until I have full information on the subject however, before taking any definite action."

SCOTT HIGH MEETS PORTLAND TODAY

The New Touring Car $295 F.O.B. DETROIT

A Striking Value—at $295

Considering the improved appearance of the new Ford Touring Car, one would naturally expect a proportionate advance in price.

Larger scale production, however, has made it possible to incorporate in this new type touring car a number of decided improvements without increasing its cost to the purchaser.

A comparison extending over a long period of years will reveal the fact that the present price is actually the lowest at which the five-passenger open car has ever been sold.

The Ford Touring Car stands today, as it always has, a most remarkable value in the motor car field.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31—The final stock market session of 1923 was characterized by higher prices for both railroad and industrial shares. Crossing of par by United States Steel common for the first time since last May was the outstanding individual feature, the stock touching 100, but slipping back later to 99, where it was up on the day.

Publishers of optimistic business forecasts for 1924 by business and banking leaders was reported to have influenced buying by small investors, while operators on the long side were said to be heavy buyers of stocks for psychological as well as for business reasons, arising market on the closing day of the year being widely regarded as a good omen.

Considerable taxation selling took place during the day, particularly in low priced issues.

The average of 20 leading industrial and 20 leading railroad stocks closed the year about midway between the high and low records.

Industrials reached their high mark in the latter part of March, while the railroad shares established their peak in the first part of the month.

The low point in the low averages were recorded in August while individuals did not reach their bottom figures until the middle of October.

Heavy buying of railroad shares to replace holdings recently disposed of for tax purposes was reported during the day.

Call money opened at six per cent but declined to 5 1/2 before the close.

The average call money renewal rate this year was 4.85 per cent as compared with 4.25 per cent in 1922; 5.97 per cent in 1921 and 7.75 per cent in 1920.

The time money and commercial paper business was quiet with no change in rates.
